Special Educational Needs and
Disabilities Information Report 2022-23

What is the Local Offer?

The North Yorkshire Local Offer provides useful information for children and young people with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) and their families. It is here to help families, individuals, groups and organisations find information so you have more choice and control over what support is right. Further information can be found at <https://www.northyorks.gov.uk/about-local-offer-north-yorkshire>

Cowling Community Primary School's Information report clearly sets out procedures and provision for children with specific needs and contributes to the local offer.

What specific Special Educational Needs are provided for?

Cowling Community Primary School is a fully inclusive mainstream school. There is provision for children with:

Communication and Interaction difficulties

'Children and young people with speech, language and communication needs (SLCN) have difficulty in communicating with others. This may be because they have difficulty saying what they want to, understanding what is being said to them or they do not understand or use social rules of communication. The profile for every child with SLCN is different and their needs may change over time. They may have difficulty with one, some or all of the different aspects of speech, language or social communication at different times of their lives.

Children and young people with ASD, including Asperger's Syndrome and Autism, are likely to have particular difficulties with social interaction. They may also experience difficulties with language, communication and imagination, which can impact on how they relate to others.' SEND Code of Practice

Cognition and Learning

'Support for learning difficulties may be required when children and young people learn at a slower pace than their peers, even with appropriate differentiation.

Learning difficulties cover a wide range of needs, including moderate learning difficulties (MLD), severe learning difficulties (SLD), where children are likely to need support in all areas of the curriculum and associated difficulties with mobility and communication, through to profound and multiple learning difficulties (PMLD), where children are likely to have severe and complex learning difficulties as well as a physical disability or sensory impairment.

Special Educational Needs and Disabilities Information Report 2022-23

Specific learning difficulties (SpLD), affect one or more specific aspects of learning. This encompasses a range of conditions such as dyslexia, dyscalculia and dyspraxia.' SEND Code of Practice

Social, emotional and mental health difficulties

'Children and young people may experience a wide range of social and emotional difficulties which manifest themselves in many ways. These may include becoming withdrawn or isolated, as well as displaying challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour. These behaviours may reflect underlying mental health difficulties such as anxiety or depression, self-harming, substance misuse, eating disorders or physical symptoms that are medically unexplained.

Other children and young people may have disorders such as attention deficit disorder, attention deficit hyperactive disorder or attachment disorder.' SEND Code of Practice

Sensory and/or physical needs

'Some children and young people require special educational provision because they have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of the educational facilities generally provided. These difficulties can be age related and may fluctuate over time. Many children and young people with vision impairment (VI), hearing impairment (HI) or a multisensory impairment (MSI) will require specialist support and/or equipment to access their learning, or habilitation support. Children and young people with an MSI have a combination of vision and hearing difficulties.' SEND Code of Practice

How does Cowling Community Primary School identify children with SEND? How do we assess their needs and what are the arrangements for reviewing children's progress?

Cowling Community Primary School follows SEND Code of Practice 2015 and uses the Graduated Approach in order to identify and assess children's needs.

Assess

Children are continually monitored and assessed by all adults in the class in order to identify any potential barriers to learning or socialisation.

Any specific concerns are discussed with the SENDCo.

We believe that it is important to involve the parents/carers at this early stage of assessment. We encourage all parents/carers to discuss any concerns they may have with, in the first instance, the class teacher and then the SENDCo.

We believe that it is important to ascertain the children's views at this early stage of assessment – this is done through conversations or questionnaires depending on the age and needs of the child.

The children's needs are analysed and reviewed regularly.

Plan

In conjunction with parents, the SENDCo and class teacher will decide upon the support required by each individual child and a review date will be set. A Support Plan sets out the provision required for any child receiving intervention and a Chronology of Support for children on the SEND register is completed and discussed with parents/carers. Parents and children are involved in setting targets and provision each term.

Do

Interventions are implemented by the class teacher or the T.A. The SENDCo oversees this process and where necessary offers advice/support. The impact of the intervention is monitored.

Review

The effectiveness of the intervention(s) are reviewed with the children and their parents/carers.

A cycle of face-to-face review meetings with the class teacher (and where necessary the SENDCo) will then take place. These are in addition to parents' evening and end of year reports.

If specialist support is required, parental consent is sought and the relevant documentation is completed and signed.

If necessary, an Education, Health and Care assessment may be requested. The EHC plan will be reviewed annually by all relevant parties and the L.A.

How do we involve the parents/carers of children with SEND in their child's education?

Parents/carers views are invaluable when assessing children's needs. They are encouraged to contact the class teacher if they have any questions or concerns. At Cowling Community Primary School we believe that parents should be involved at all stages of the Graduated Approach Process.

This includes:

Any decisions made regarding provision and target setting

Regular monitoring and progress meetings (at least one each term - SEND Code of Practice) take place alongside less formal meetings and conversations.

How do we involve the children with SEND in their education?

At Cowling, we believe that children should be fully involved at every stage of the Graduated Approach. This is done through conversations and the completion of questionnaires, depending on the age and needs of the child.

How do we support children in moving between phases of education?

When children first enter Cowling Community Primary School, staff (EYFS teacher and SENDCo if needed) liaise with parents and the children's previous early year's setting to ensure that any additional needs are identified and provision is put in place in order to support strengths and additional needs. Where necessary, a bespoke transition plan is devised to prepare them for the transition.

Within school transition: school staff liaise with the children's next class teacher as they move through the school – any additional needs are discussed and all documentation are passed on to the next teacher.

Where necessary, a bespoke transition plan is devised, including a timetable of additional transition visits in order to prepare for the next class and develop confidence, familiarity and independence.

When the children move on to a new school, the SENDCo/class teacher liaises closely with parents, children and the staff of the next school to ensure that the transition process supports the individual child – extra visits are organised where necessary. Additional meetings with parents and new school staff take place and all relevant documentation is discussed and transferred.

How do we teach children with SEND?

At Cowling Community Primary School, we strongly believe that all children should feel included. We focus on the whole child – strengths and difficulties are taken into account and provision is adapted accordingly. Learning starts with quality first teaching for all, which is carefully scaffolded/differentiated to meet the needs of all children whatever their learning style. Where necessary, the curriculum is further adapted for the needs of the child and 1:1 provision is put in place (detailed in individual support plans).

All staff have worked together to identify how each curriculum area could be adapted in line with the '5 a day' principles from Education Endowment Foundation (flexible grouping, cognitive and metacognitive, strategies, explicit instruction, using technology to support pupils with SEND; and scaffolding).

Staff use a variety of teaching styles resources in lessons to support children's learning. Information is shared with all relevant staff to ensure that each child receives the most appropriate provision.

How do we adapt the curriculum and the learning environment of children with SEND?

At Cowling, we strongly believe that all teaching should be suitable for the needs of the children and therefore the curriculum is adapted whenever necessary. This could involve:

- extra support in lessons;
- use of manipulatives or learning mats;
- individual or group interventions;
- differentiated end-points or a fully personalised curriculum with 1:1 support.

Our learning environment has been designed with the physical and affective environment in mind. We ensure that all spaces are safe, inviting and flexible – resources are easily accessible in order to foster independence. All children are encouraged to work collaboratively and collectively as valued members of the group. We ensure that all children are valued within their group and that, where possible, they remain working in the classroom with their peers for a high proportion of the day. Other adaptations includes access arrangements for children with physical disabilities (e.g. an accessible toilet, a ramp). All teachers use dyslexia friendly approaches for all children.

Where can the details of the curriculum provided each year be accessed?

Cowling Community Primary School provides a broad and balanced curriculum, the details of this can be accessed via the school website (paper copies are available on request).

How do we ensure that children with SEND are able to engage in activities available with children who do not have SEND?

Cowling Community Primary School is a fully inclusive school. All children are given the opportunity to be included in all activities including extra-curricular activities. A risk assessment is carried out prior to any out of school activity to ensure everyone's health and safety will not be compromised. In the unlikely event that it is considered unsafe for a child to take part in an activity, then alternative activities would be provided. Children's attendance at extracurricular activities is closely monitored – all children are encouraged to participate regardless of any additional needs. SEND children have a good attendance rate for a range of clubs including sports clubs.

All visitors are made aware of any additional needs that the children they are working with have before their visit. This is reiterated on their arrival and extra support staff are made available if necessary.

What training do the staff undertake to work with children with SEND?

All staff in school attend regular training sessions. These include: Paired Reading, Questioning skills, Speech and Language training, Autism training, Reading Intervention, Precision Teaching training, stammering support training, Diabetes training, Attachment disorder training, training supplied by Compass Buzz regarding emotional and mental health concerns, Team Teach Level 1. Members of staff work alongside the NYCC SEND Hub to deliver interventions to meet the needs of our children with ASD.

How is specialist expertise accessed?

Where appropriate, we are able to access specialist support from the NYCC SEND Hub. With consent from parents, a referral is made centrally which is assessed by a panel and forwarded to the relevant specialist teacher.

Other specialist support services such as Educational Psychologists can also be accessed through this central referral system.

We can also access specialist support from the Speech and Language therapist team, the Occupational Therapist team, the Epilepsy Nurse and the Diabetes Nurse.

How do we evaluate the effectiveness of the provision made for children with SEND?

The impact of provision is reviewed at least termly which involves meetings with all relevant members of staff. As part of the Graduated Approach, the effectiveness of the intervention(s)/provision is reviewed with the children and their parents/carers. A termly cycle of face-to-face review meetings with the class teacher (and where necessary the SENCo) takes place. These are in addition to parents' evening and end of year reports. Views of parents and children are always taken into account. Any adaptations to provision or training needs are identified and actioned.

SEND is an agenda item for each staff meeting and each Governors' meeting. All class teachers monitor the support provided by TAs termly and the SENCo undertakes further monitoring and coaching. SEND is also a focus of the monitoring and evaluation that each subject leader performs.

What support for improving emotional and social development are put in place? What are the arrangements for listening to the views of children with SEND?

Cowling Community Primary School

Special Educational Needs and
Disabilities Information Report 2022-23

Emotional and social development is supported through the progressive PSHE curriculum and assemblies. Children are provided with strategies and support to manage their emotional and social development.

A Senior Mental Health Lead has been trained and a member of SLT was trained in Peer Mentoring and as a Youth Mental Health First aider. We have a robust monitoring and reporting system within school – all information is provided at an appropriate level for the children and adapted wherever necessary.

All children have a named adult that they can speak to about issues that arise and can identify another 4 people/children who they like to talk to when they need to.

How does the school involve specialist external services in meeting the needs of children with SEND and supporting their families?

Cowling Community Primary School has established excellent working relationships with professionals from the following agencies:

- The Educational Psychologist
- School Nurse and Health Visitor
- CAMHS
- Speech and Language Therapist
- Occupational Therapists
- Paediatrician
- NYCC SEND Hub
- Compass Phoenix (formally Compass Buzz)
- Early Help
- NYCC and Bradford Virtual School

Professionals from all the above agencies have supported staff and children in school. School would only contact an outside agency after consultation with parents.

What are the arrangements for handling complaints from parents of children with SEND about the provision made at the school?

Cowling Community Primary School has an open-door policy and we encourage parents to speak to the class teacher if they are unsure about the provision that their child is receiving. Parents who have a grievance or complaint about the nature or amount of special educational provision that their child receives are encouraged to ask for a mutually convenient meeting with the school in order to resolve the issue. In the first instance this would be with the class teacher who then may be joined by the SENDCo. If the concern is not rectified, the headteacher will then be involved in the meeting in her capacity as headteacher, not SENDCo. If the situation is not resolved, parents are asked to follow the school's Complaint Policy,

The Local Authority must have in place 'arrangements with a view to avoiding or resolving disagreements between parents and certain schools about the special educational provision made for their child.' (SEN Code of Practice)

What are the arrangements for supporting children and young people who are looked after by the Local Authority and have SEND?

It is important that all children with SEN receive the educational provision which meets their needs. However, for looked after children, many of whom will have had difficult and unstable home and school lives before coming into care, it is imperative that their needs are quickly and efficiently assessed and provided for so that the effect of any instability on their education is reduced to a minimum.

For children with SEN, but without EHCPs, it is the school in the main that will make provision for the child's special educational needs.
